6. Please provide the email address(es) for all co-presenters (if applicable).

7. Submission title (50 words):

8. Session description: Summarize your topic and tell us why the audience would find this valuable. PLEASE NOTE: This will be the description available to conference delegates should your proposal be accepted. (500 words):

9. What are 3-5 learning outcomes for your session; what will your audience understand more about or be able to do after this session (250 words)?

10. Please indicate how your proposal contributes to increasing and/or addressing access, equity, inclusion and belonging in our field:

11. Which stream does your proposal best fit into? We understand that some submissions may fit into multiple streams, but we are looking for where it best fits:
- WIL Across Canada
- Learning, Quality and Practice
- Partnerships That Make WIL Possible
- Access, Inclusion and Reconciliation
- Innovation and Emerging Models of WIL
- Leading WIL Forward

12. What is your preferred session format?:

- Focused Presentation (20 minutes): A concise presentation sharing research, a program or initiative, an emerging idea, a practical approach, or lessons from experience. Presentations should identify the context, highlight key insights and leave participants with clear implications for WIL practice, research or leadership.
- Interactive Workshop (45 minutes): A participatory session designed to help attendees explore, apply or practise an approach. Workshops should actively involve participants through activities, discussion, collaborative problem-solving, resource development or guided application.
- Story Circle (45 minutes): A facilitated gathering in which participants share experiences, perspectives and lessons connected to a common question or theme. Story circles emphasize listening, relationship-building and learning with and from one another rather than formal presentation.
- Facilitated Dialogue or Roundtable (45 minutes): A structured conversation that brings participants together to examine a question, tension, challenge or emerging area of WIL. The facilitator introduces the topic, offers prompts and supports an exchange of perspectives among participants.
- Panel Conversation (45 minutes): A moderated conversation bringing together up to three panelists with different perspectives on a shared issue. Panels should prioritize discussion among panelists and engagement with the audience rather than a series of individual presentations.
